A PITTSBURG TRAGEDY

Dead Body of Mrs. John A. Kirkpatrick Found.

IN THE BACKYARD OF

An Allegheny City House—Crime Was Committed During Saturday Night —Police Hunting Suspects

MURDERER MAY HAVE KNOWN HER.

Pittsburg, February 6.—The body of Mrs. John A. Kirkpatrick was found yesterday in the backyard of an unoccupied house, at No. 9 Jackson street, Allegheny, only a short distance from her home. She had been murdered and the morgue physician states that the woman had been criminally assaulted. Suspicion rests on a man as yet unknown to the police, but who evidently was an acquaintance of the woman.

For the past several months Mrs. Kirkpatrick has been living at the residence of Mrs Jessie Scott, on Jackson street, with her husband and 18 months' old baby. Last night she took her baby to her mother's home on Isabella street so she could attend to the marketing. Her husband was to meet her at the Isabella street house, but when he failed to keep his appointment she started for her home with her purchases, intending to return for the child. After leaving the street car near her home, she was talking to a tall man wearing a high hat and long overcoat. A few moments later she was evidently dragged into Creighton alley, where she was heard to exclaim: "Oh, don't; I'll do anything you say." When the body was discovered it was found that the woman had been choked to death and traces in the snow showed that she had been dragged along the alley to the yard gate and thrown inside.

Both Escer Befrum and Mrs. P. T. Bowser, with whom Befrum boards at 13 Jackson street, heard the scuffling and quarreling in the alley, but being newcomers in the neighborhood, decided not to interfere in any way.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's assailant is supposed to be some man who was at least an acquaintance of hers, because during the evening a man answering the description of the one seen talking to her called twice at the Scott house and asked for Mattie (the woman's first name) and appeared to be an old friend.

The police have several suspects under surveillance and will probably make arrests today.

Late last night the police arrested Norman Geyser, a board marker in a local broker's office, and are holding him on the charge of murder. Developments show that Geyser had been an admirer of Mrs. Kirkpatrick for several years before her marriage and for a time was the cause of an estrangement between Kirkpatrick and his wife. The trouble had been smoothed over and the couple were living happily together, but last week Mrs. Kirkpatrick, it is said, complained to her husband that Geyser was annoying her by following her on the street and persisting in talking to her.

When arrested a blood stain was found on Geyser's overcoat sleeve, and the knuckles of his right hand were cut, the abrasions being such, the physicians say, as could be made by the sharp edges of human teeth.

As it was found that several of the murdered woman's teeth had been knocked out, the police believe they have captured the right man.

To Succeed Rev. Dr. E. J. Wolf.

Gettysburg, Pa., February 2.—President J. A. Singmaster, of the Gettysburg theological seminary, last night announced that Dr, William Freas, formerly of York, Pa., but now of Baltimore, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the presidency of the general Lutheran synod of America caused by the death of Dr. E. J. Wolf, of this city. Mr. Singmaster added that the reports that are being published in newspapers to the effect that Dr. R. H. Fenner, of Louisville, Ky., secretary of the synod, would act as president until the synod meets in Pittsburg in June were incorrect.

NOTED OUTLAW DEAD.

Fate of Men Who Once Terrorized North-Western Pennsylvania.

Harry English, aged about 58, once a fearless outlaw who terrorized northwestern Pennsylvania, died January 20 in the McKean county poor house, where he had spent most of the past 10 years a helpless paralytic.

He was obliged to wheel himself about in an invalid's chair and for years he awaited the end. In order to deaden the pain from which he incessantly suffered he became a confirmed victim of the morphine habit. His daily doses of the drug were large enough to kill an ordinary man, but English was not an ordinary man and years of illness and suffering were necessary to exhaust his magnificent vitality. His life was a strong example of misdirected abilities. Harry English erred, but in his checkered career are recorded many acts of kindness and generosity. Against his crimes are recorded a dreadful penance of mental and physical suffering.

In 1880 English was a fugitive from justice, charged with forgery and thefts in McKean county. He had taken refuge at Caledonia, near St. Marys, Elk county. Officers entered the house where he was living. English retreated to a bedroom, and Constable Warnith was shot dead by him while trying to enter. He then shot fatally Constable Volmer while that officer was carrying away Warnith's body. English escaped with several wounds, but was captured three months later in Michigan. At his trial in Ridgeway for killing Warnith and Volmer he was acquitted on the plea of self defense, as it was shown that the posse commenced firing immediately on reaching his retreat. Sentences for his other offenses were light.

Kind, generous and faithful to his friends, stern and unrelenting to his enemies, contemptuous of the laws, a lover of liberty in the open air, an equal of three ordinary men in strength, gifted with marvelous physical courage, blessed with a sound and comprehensive intellect, Harry English's was a paradoxical personality, one of the most dramatic that this part of the country has ever produced.

Murder or Suicide Which? At Ridgway

A sensational tragedy occurred at an early hour Saturday morning at Ridgway, in the house of Mrs. Edna Swartz, alias Edna Boyer. The victim was Orvis Farley, a widower, aged 28 years. The Boyer woman and two other inmates of the place who had been entertaining company, says an Associated Press dispatch, are now in the jail at Ridgeway. No formal charge of murder has been made against the Boyer woman, but she is held on the technical charge of disorderly conduct, pending the examination into the death of Farley. The other two women are held as witnesses, technically on the same charge as that lodged against the keeper of the house.

All day long the coroner's jury wrestled with the problem presented by the tragedy. It was brought out at the inquest that Farley and Mrs. Boyer had quarreled during the night. There was no direct evidence on the killing, and the inquest was adjourned until next Thursday. In the meantime the suspect and the witnesses are held.

There was tremendous excitement throughout the town when it was learned that a man had been killed in the Boyer woman's place. Farley was found with a bullet wound in his head, and a revolver lying near. He had either committed suicide or there has been an attempt to cover up a murder by making it look like suicide. The Boyer woman was arrested, and it was learned that the two other inmates had taken an early morning train north. Telegrams were immediately sent out and the women were arrested at Bradford and sent back to Ridgway. They are now in the county jail.

Farley was at one time a respected citizen. Since his wife's death he has been going down hill. He became infatuated with the Boyer woman and was jealous of her. He came to Ridgeway from Curwensville, where he has relatives.

She denied the shooting, but beyond that it is difficult to induce her to say anything.

Odd Fellows Preparing.

Preparations are being made for the twenty first annual session of the Pennsylvania Odd Fellows' Anniversary association to be held in Sunbury, on Wednesday, April 26th, which will be the eighty-sixth anniversary of Odd Fellows in America. The Sunbury Odd Fellows are now at work and the fact that the orphanage is near Sunbury will make it especially popular for the meeting. An effort will be made to make it the greatest success in the history of the association.

SUDDENLY SUMMONED

Mrs. Milton R. Johnson Drops Dead from Apoplexy—Mrs. John Toner of Axe Mann Dies of Pneumonia.

BRIEF SKETCHES OF DEPARTED FRIENDS

A very sudden death was that of Mrs. Keturah Barr Johnson, wife of Milton R. Johnson, which sad affair occurred Tuesday afternoon about 1:15 o'clock in the yard of her husband's home on North Spring street. Mrs. Johnson had been in her usual good health and the night before attended a sledding party. Tuesday noon she ate a hearty dinner and was in the best of spirits. After dinner she started down to the barn and was feeding the chickens. Her little daughter was about to start to school and she went to say good-bye to her mother, but she found her lying unconscious in the chicken yard. She ran back and told the family but when they reached Mrs. Johnson's side she had already passed away. Death is believed to have been due to a stroke of apoplexy.

The deceased, whose maiden name was C. Keturah Barr, was the daughter of the late Squire Samuel Barr, whom many of our older residents remember, and Mrs. Belle Barr, of this place. She was born in Bellefonte September 12, 1868 making her age 36 years, 4 months and 26 days. She was a member of the Methodist church since childhood and was an earnest christian lady. She was married April 2nd 1891 at Bellefonte to Milton R. Johnson, and their married life has been a very happy one and she was a faithful wife and helpmate.

She is survived by her husband and the following children, Bella, Hazel, Mildred and Esther. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Bella Barr, of Bellefonte, and a brother, Miles, of Nashville, Tennessee.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon. The friends will meet at the house at 2 o'clock and proceed to the Methodist Episcopal church where the services will be held conducted by Rev. J. A. Wood Jr. Interment in the Union cemetery.

MRS. MARY TONER.

Mrs. Mary Toner, wife of John Toner died at her home in Axe Mann last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock of pneumonia after a weeks illness. Her maiden name was Mary Kelly and she was born in Ireland 72 years ago, coming to this country when a young girl.

She was married to John Toner who survives her with the following children: James, of Bellefonte; Mrs Mary Curry, of Scotia; Mrs. Susan Morrison and Thomas, of Axe Mann; Andrew, of Clearfield, and Mrs. Lizzie Gingerich, of Allegheny. She also leaves two brothers and one sister, namely, James, of Axe Mann; Patrick, of Hublersburg; and Mrs. Rosie Vallance, of Bellefonte. The funeral took place Monday morning at ten o'clock from St. Johns' Catholic church of which deceased was a member. Interment in the Catholic cemetry.

The Fifth Out in the Cold.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says that Adjutant General Stewart and General Gobin, of the Third brigade, have decided that the provisional brigade of the National Guard of Pennsylvania to take part in the inauguration of President Roosevelt, next March, shall be composed of follows:

The First regiment entire and a battalion of four companies each of the Fourth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth regiments.

Will Rebuild at Once.

The Howard Brick company started to work Thursday clearing the wreckage of their building which collapsed Tuesday evening. Work will be pushed as rapidly as possible for the erection of a new and more substantial structure. Joseph Shenck and Nathaniel Pletcher, who were injured at the time, are reported much better.

PRESIDENT BECKWITH DEAD.

He was the Head of the Defunct Citizens' Bank of Oberlin, O.

Oberlin, O, Feb. 6.—C. T. Beckwith, president of the defunct Citizens' National bank, of this city, died at 10:45 o'clock last night, after two days of unconsciousness, during which dissolution was expected at any moment. Only the family surrounded the death bed of the banker.

Mr. Beckwith was about 65 years of age. On December 1, last the federal grand jury in Cleveland returned five indictments against him upon the charge of violating the national banking laws in connection with the loans to Mrs Cassie L. Chadwick by the citizens' National bank, of Oberlin, of which deceased was the president. From the day of his arrest Beckwith's health failed rapidly as a result of worry over his troubles. He frequently declared during his illness that he wanted to die. For several days prior to his death he refused to take food in any form. Death resulted directly from heart trouble.

The death of President Beckwith may materially weaken the cases of forgery and conspiracy to misapply bank funds now charged against Mrs. Chadwick. It was expected that Beckwith would be a star witness in both the federal and common pleas courts.

There is no way to perpetuate Beckwith's testimony. The constitution of the United States says accused persons must be confronted in court by the accusers. A disposition or affidavit cannot be used.

An effort was made to convey the news of the death of the banker to Mrs. Chadwick late last night, but the jail authorities refused to permit it, saying that she would learn the news soon enough in the morning papers.

She had been told on Saturday, however, that Banker Beckwith was very ill and she expressed regret for the fact.

Lane—Womer.

John E. Womer, of Philipsburg, and Miss Stella M. Lane, of Lock Haven, were united in marriage in the parsonage of the Church of the Immaculate Conception Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 1, at 3 p. m., by Rev. J. N. Codori. Owing to recent deaths in both families it was decided to have the ceremony performed, the only attendants being the bride's brother and sister, Vincent Lane and Miss Agnes Lane. The newly-wedded couple and attendants were then conveyed to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Lane, South Jones street, where a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Womer departed on the 6 o'clock train for a trip to the east. On their return they will reside in their newly-furnished home in Philipsburg, in which place the groom holds a good position as a stationary engineer. He is fortunate in securing for his wife so estimable a young lady as Mrs. Lane, who is a graduate of the Lock Haven High school and also the Central State Normal school. During the past four years she has been one of the efficient instructors in the Philipsburg High school, and it was during her residence there that she formed the acquaintance of Mr. Womer, and later gave him her heart and hand. The many friends of the former Miss Lane wish her naught but happiness in her new relation. —Lock Haven Democrat.

Got a Cheap Piano.

Reading an alluring advertisement of how for a very small expenditure he might secure a fine piano, a Mercer county man sent in his check for $15 and in due time received a postal card from the station agent telling him there was a package in the freight house consigned to him and he hitched up his heaviest team and drove in with his big wagon to get it. When he reached the depot he found a bundle about as big as a goodsized dog kennel and hastily tearing off the wrappings, he brought to view a small toy instrument, such as may be bought at any store for a dollar. But the worst of the matter was the piano answered to a dot to the description given in the advertisement, which however, was so cunningly worded as to conceal more than it said.—Franklin News.

Death of Miss McCalmont.

Miss Millie May McCalmont died at her home in Baltimore Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31. The remains were brought to Lock Haven Friday afternoon, and taken to the home of her aunt, Miss Conkling, 345 West Main street, where a short funeral service was conducted at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. R. Zeigler. Interment in Highland cemetery.

FRANCHISE IS GRANTED

To Bellefonte Traction Company by Boro Dads.

ORDINANCE IS PASSED.

Company Has Thirty Days in Which to Accept or Reject the Same--New Bridge to be Built Over the Race on High Street--New water Main on South Allegheny Street.

APPROPRIATION TO FIRE COMPANIES.

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council was held Monday evening with President Jenkins in the chair and the following members present: Fenlon, Wise, Keichline, Derstine, Seibert, Keller and Kirk.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Nothing of importance was elicited from the reports of the different committees.

The street railway ordinance was then taken up. Solicitor Fortney had prepared an ordinance regulating the said railway company. J. C. Meyer, Robert F. Hunter and John I. Olewine, representing the Traction company were present. Mr. Meyer filed several objections to the ordinance as prepared. Mr. Meyer seemed very much in earnest in his desire to get together with the council and agree on an ordinance. He said the company mean business and that there was no hot air in their desire to build a street railway. They were willing to pave between the rails, and a certain distance on each side of the track as required by ordinance with vitrified brick except on High street from Spring creek to Diamond, on East Bishop, South Spring from Bishop to boro line, Allegheny from Linn to Curtin and one or two other places where the grade is steep. The council however insisted on the paving of High street.

Another clause which the Traction company objected to was the one fixing a license fee of $100 a year against the company after it had been in operation 5 years providing no more than five cars were operated and for each car over that number $25 a car should be charged. The Traction company objected to this very strenuously but council was determined and finally fixed the time limit at which this tax was to go into effect as ten years after company was in operation.

After considerable discussion the council took up the ordinance section by section and approved it. Then councilman Joseph Wise moved its adoption which was duly seconded and adopted.

The Bellefonte Traction Co. have thirty days in which to file an acceptance or rejection of the ordinance.

Burgess Walker turned in fines amounting to $4.25.

Tha Fire and Police Committee recommended the granting of the annual appropriation fo the fire companies, $250 to the Logans and $250 to the Undines. It was granted.

Borough Solicitor Fortney turned in $342.26 taxes which had been placed in his hands for collection. He also reported the sidewalk in front of the new Y. M. C. A., building on High street as in a very dangerous condition.

A new bridge is to be built over the race on High street at the Pennsylvania station. The borough is to build the abutments and the County Commissioners are to finish the work. This will be a splendid improvement and one that is much needed. The bridge will be brick paved and will be a substantial structure in every particular.

A twelve inch water main is to be laid from the reservoir down Allegheny street to the Reynolds bank building. This it is believed will give the residents of Linn and Curtin streets and that portion of the town a better water supply.

The New Episcopal Bishop.

The newly elected Bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church is well thought of by the congregations he has presided over as the following will testify.

[Extracts from the speech of the Senior Warden of Christ Church, Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., at the Twentieth Anniversary of the Rev. James Henry Darlington, D. D., Ph.D., having been the Rector of that parish, showing his work there.

"The confirmation classes have generally been among the largest in the diocese, if not the largest of all. At one time, a few years ago, the annual class numbered 114 members, a congregation in itself. Last year the class numbered 73, many of them adults. There was but one larger class in the city. Dr. Darlington's influence over men has been marked, as has been shown by his membership in various clubs, being President of the Amphion Musical Society for years and also for eight years Chaplain of the Forty-seventh Regiment. Our fiftieth year book, in an article by the Rev. B. Oakley Baldwin, curate of St. Matthew's Church, Manhattan, shows that over twenty-two young men have entered holy orders from our church in twenty years of Dr. Darlington's ministry, being over one a year. There are at least two students preparing now for the same high office. During the past year, also, the Rev. William S. Perry and the Rev. Henry C. Briggs, both lately Dutch Reformed ministers, have entered the church through our rector, being ordained but a few weeks ago to the Diaconate in the Garden City Cathedral."

John B. Robertson.

John B. Robertson, of Philipsburg, died Saturday morning at 3 o'clock, with a complication of diseases, chief among which was cancer of the liver. He has been quite ill for the past three years, and during all that time has been unable to do any kind of work whatever. He was aged about 34 years, leaves a wife and one child, about four years old. The deceased was born in Stubenaville, Ohio, and came from that place to Philipsburg about twenty years ago. He also leaves four sisters and two brothers. He has been a member of the Philipsburg Castle, No. 193, K. G. E. for about fifteen years, which organization will have charge of the funeral. He was a kind father, and husband, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence in Philipsburg.

His Cargo Shifted

The following is taken from the New York American:

Listing from port to starboard and back from starboard to port, a tramp weathered the walk on Forty-fourth street until he reached Delmonico's door, and then, nose down, plunged into the snow, where he was weighted down helplessly. Patrons of Delmonico's laughed at him, cabmen taunted him and a policeman tried in vain to right him. "He's anchored fast," the police cried. "To much cargo aboard." At the station house his cargo proved to be junk. He wore three suits of clothes and every pocket was filled with old iron, tin, medals, watch works, whisk brooms and towels. He registered as Conrad Brock, of Lock Haven, Pa.

No Hair Cut for Twenty Years.

A dispatch from Schenectady, N. Y., says Henry C. Van Benthuysen, an eccentric merchant of this city, died last Monday. Although only thirty-four years old, he was obsolete as a citizen of the twentieth century. He always wore the crown of what was once a Derby hat, and in the fifteen years he has been wearing the hat the brim has entirely disappeared, and what was left shone like patent leather.

He has not had his hair cut for twenty years and had never been in a trolley car. Within the last three years he had not been five hundred feet from his store.

APPROPRIATE DRESSING.

The Secret of Always Presenting a Good Appearance.

The great secret of a well dressed woman is that she is dressed appropriately for the occasion and yet not so ostentatiously as to attract adverse criticism. It is not difficult for a woman of means to own a wardrobe sufficiently large to admit of gowns suitable for almost any occasion, but it requires a clever head for the woman of moderate wealth or slender income to choose such costumes as may be adapted to suit more than one purpose and yet appear well dressed in these days of lavish expenditure. If she pauses to consider, however, she discovers that the best gowned women of her acquaintance are not those who spend the most money on dress. They may be, and probably are, a little extravagant in the matter of shoes, gloves and other dainty accessories that add "le dernier cri" to a well gowned woman, but their frocks are more remarkable for their cut, their immaculate condition and general good style than for any lavish ornamentation or extravagance in color or price.

She must look as though just unpacked from a bandbox—spotlessly neat, quietly but appropriately gowned, trim about the feet, hands and collar—and then no woman can be far astray from approval in both masculine and feminine eyes. A man takes in the general effect and judges of the whole rather than the details of a woman's appearance. A woman goes further, and, although her quick eye may detect the quality of the material, she will forgive or ignore the knowledge provided that the wearer displays good taste and regard for the details of her toilet. Happy the woman who can pass in all respects the requirements of both these points of view!

TREATING A WINDOW.

How to Make a Tall, Narrow One Look Low and Wide.

Have you ever moved into a house and found fairly low ceilings that might have lent themselves to a quite artistic decoration had not the effect been marred by the tall, narrow window? I have, and after doing battle with it in my mind's eye for several days I hit upon the expedient of lowering the window in effect by widening it in reality. I hung a straight, smooth strip of Japanese crape against the wall on either side of the window. The strip was only eighteen inches wide, but the effect produced was of a broad, low window.—Good Housekeeping.

Riddle Rhymes.

A head have I, but not a nose,
Nor eye nor ear, as you'd suppose,
And yet of service I am full,
Though you may have to push and pull.
No hands have I to clasp or fold,
Yet many things I fix and hold;
Nor any feet, yet out and in
I bravely go through thick and thin!

I have no head, no hands, no feet,
Yet I've an eye when I'm complete,
And, though it has not any sight
And cannot tell the day from night,
I still can make my way about,
Through many holes go in and out,
And always in my path I bring
Or take with me an eyeless thing!

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. L. A. Soper, of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendation that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when anything disagrees with her. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Proper Sitting Posture.

When some people sit down in a chair they plunk into it as though they were a side of dressed beef, with not a bit more life or lightness about them than that. The right way is to let yourself down easily, lightly and gradually into the seat. Don't lean upon your backbone either. Sit squarely upon the great muscles at the back of the hips, with the thigh bones at right angles to the spine. This is the only graceful and hygienic way to sit. Maintain this attitude, with the chest up and spine straight, and you will present always a graceful picture. Rolling upon the backbone makes the back ache and causes spinal trouble.

Accused Italian Discharged.

Frank Uaro, better known as "Dominick," who had been confined in the county jail at Lock Haven since January 16 on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of James Sesto, who was shot and killed at Mill Hall on the evening of January 13, by some unknown person, had a hearing Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock before Alderman F. K. Parsons, at his office on East Water street. The room of the alderman's was crowded with Italians and others who were interested in the case.

Attorney W. C. Kress appeared for the defendant and C. S. McCormick Esq., and District Attorney Henry Hipple, represented the commonwealth.

Several important witnesses were examined regarding the murder, but the evidence produced was insufficient to implicate the prisoner with the crime and he was therefore discharged from custody.

With reference to the injury to Dominick's hand Mrs. Cesto, the wife of the murdered man, and at whose house the accused boarded, testified that he received this injury while cutting wood previous to the death of her husband and that on that night she had dressed his hand.

The commonwealth felt there was enough circumstantial evidence to cause the apprehension of the defendant, but this chain of evidence was shattered by the latter's attorney at the hearing Wednesday.

Defacing of Mail Boxes.

Circulars are being received by postoffices throughout the country offering large rewards for the arrest and conviction of people who violate the rules of the postal department.

It is not generally known that it is against the law to scratch a match on one of Uncle Sam's mail boxes, but such is the case. Any marring or mutilation whatever is a misdemeanor, The same measures are now in effect in respect to boxes on rural routes. Extraction of mail whether the box be locked or unlocked, it is a crime when done by any persons for the purpose of robbery, etc.

Circulars being sent out announce that $1,000 will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of robbery of mail on the cars. The sum of $500 is offered for the arrest and conviction of persons robbing mail on any postal route other than railroad. An assault on any person in custody of the mail is, of course an offense.

Cuts Down Justices' Fees.

Judge Anten, at Sunbury, last Thursday, handed down a decision in the case of William Armour, a justice of the peace, against Northumberland county. The justice presented a bill to the county for swearing defendants' witnesses in criminal cases. The county refused to pay, and the judge upholds the county.

The amount claimed by the justice was for swearing 78 witnesses on behalf of defendants in criminal cases heard and dismissed. The judge decides that the costs claimed were made in aid of defendants and not in the prosecution of criminal charges, and therefore there can be no recovery, as there is no law compelling the county to pay a defendant's costs in a criminal case.

The Virtues of Vin-Te-Na...

Your knowledge of the workings of the "human machine" no doubt makes you aware of the fact that the nervous system is fed and sustained by and through the blood.

When the blood is charged with the elements which nature designed, the entire nervous system and all the organs are kept in a healthful state.

Without the force which the nerves absorb from the blood, both brain and body are poor machines. Vin-te-na contains just those elements which are wanting in impoverished, poor blood. It was found on both common sense and scientific knowledge. It has conscience and integrity back o it. Vin-te-na is the one medicine that does precisely what it was designed to do, i. e. gives life and nerve-food to the blood. It actually cures every one of those disorders which come from impoverished blood.

CZAR MEETS WORKINGMEN!

Received In Audience in the Winter Palace.

BETTER CONDITIONS

Gives His Personal Assurance That Things Will Go Better in the Future.

STRIKE SPREADING TO OTHER TOWNS

St. Petersburg, Feb. 2.--12,40 a. m.—Personal assurances of his intention to ameliorate the conditions and remove the causes, in so far as they are economic, which led to the recent strike, were delivered by Emperor Nicholas Wednesday to workingmen representing all the leading factories of St. Petersburg, who at his invitation journeyed to Searskoe Selo and were received in audience in the hall of the Alexander palace, where he has his winter residence.

This interview face to face with their "Little Father," in whom their faith has not been shaken by the events of the bloody Sunday of January 22, has had a far greater and more reassuring effect than any number of proclamations by ministers and governor generals, and the workmen of St. Petersburg are now generally inclined to accept the promises of Governor General Trepoff and Finance Minister Kokovsoff at their face value. The gift by the imperial family of $25,000 to aid the families of the victims of the conflict on January 22, also has had an excellent effect; and as the news slowly permeates the laboring classes of Russia, it is expected that it will make them content to wait for the promised reforms.

Like a wave caused by the falling of a stone, the strike movement, however, is spreading over the great sea of Russian industrial life; and while St. Petersburg and Moscow, where the troubles began, are now placid, the workmen of Poland and other provinces are not yet calm, and the ripple has reached to far off Irkutsk and other Siberian towns.

Emperor Nicholas adopted the traditional fatherly tone in his talk with the workmen Wednesday. He chided them for allowing themselves to be misled into engaging in an engagement imperiling the internal order of Russia and aiding the foreign foe, and for attemptinfi to demand by force what otherwise he Would do willingly. The workmen received the royal assurances of reform with cheers, and after a lunch at the imperial table, returned to St. Petersburg in the best of humor to report to their fellows, as enjoined, the words of his majesty. No attempt was made by them to present their desires, which already are sufficiently evident.

The action of the St. Petersburg manufacturers in placing themselves in the hands of the government in the matter of the adjustment of the main points of dispute and to grant the men pay for the time they have been on strike, not as a matter of right, but as a favor and their contribution in aid of the sufferers among those families of their workmen are expected to add to the prevailing good feeling.

The current gossip to the effect that M. Bouligan, former governor of Moscow, will succeed Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky in the ministry of the interior, is another straw tending to confirm the surmise that Grand Duke Sergius is the dominant influence in the grand ducal faction. The appointment of General Trepoff to the governor-generalship of St. Petersburg, who was Sergius' nominee, narrowed the power of the minister of the interior, and, it is believed, precipitated Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's resignation; and that those who are posted should pick another Moscow man and a friend of Grand Duke Sergius to receive this portfolio indicates a growing appreciation of the influence of the emperor's uncle.

That Tickling in the Throat.

One minute after taking One Minute Cough Cure that tickling in the throat is gone. It acts in the throat—not the stomach. Harmless—good for children. A. L. Spofford, postmaster at Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. Three doses of One Minute Cough Cure half an hour apart speedily cured her. I cannot praise One Minute Cough Cure too much for what it has done in our family." It always gives relief. Gambling in the Court House.

Former Congressman J. E. Thropp's paper, the Bedford Hawkeye, alleges that poker is played in the temple of justice at Bedford. It says:

"One man said that the court rooms were used by poker players and that this alluring game had been kept up hours at a time."

It seems that the doors in the court house are never locked.

ELOPERS ARRESTED!

Mr. N. A. Caulkins and Mrs. S. C. Hoovler in Jail Here.

Quite a sensation was sprung here Wednesday evening by the arrest of a man named N. A. Caulkins and a woman who traveled with him as his wife. They have been here for several weeks and have been boarding at Mrs. P. L. Beezer's on South Spring street. Caulkins has represented that he was organizing Sons of Veteran's Posts over the State. They were also taking pictures here and at State College.

The woman, however, proved to be Mrs. S. C. Hoovler, of Oil City, and Wednesday her husband arrived here, having located her at this place. Mr. Caulkins has a wife and two children living at Oil City and is a photographer at that place. He met Mrs. Hoovler and the two became quite intimate, ending in an elopement to Bellefonte six weeks ago. Wednesday her husband had a warrant issued for the arrest of both parties and constable H. H. Montgomery and Robert Montgomery went to State College, where they are working, and placed them under arrest, brought them to Bellefonte and lodged them in jail here.

Last Thursday a hearing was held at the office of 'Squire John Keichline. Mr. Hoovler was called and swore that he had been married to Mrs. Hoovler, who was formerly Miss Maize Kramer, nine years; that he had known Mr. Caulkins but three months and that he had never heard of Mrs. Caulkins until after the elopement occurred.

Mrs. P. L. Beezer was then called and she simply stated that the defendants had come to her boarding house on the 23rd of December, 1904, and they had been living there since with an exception of a day or so; and that they represented themselves as man and wife.

Mrs. Caulkins was brought down from the jail and she fainted in the 'Squire's office, and as she was very sick she was returned to the jail and Dr. R. G. H. Hayes was called.

The defendants were bound over for court in default of $500 bail each. The bail cannot be raised by Mr. Caulkins, but it will be furnished for Mrs. Hoovler.

The Pennsylvania State College.

The State Board of Agriculture at its meeting on January 25, unanimously adopted resolutions requesting an appropriation for the completion of the Agricultural Building at the State College in accordance with the plans filed with the Auditor General and also urging liberal appropriations for the support of the Agricultural Courses and of the work of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Similar resolutions have been adopted by the Pennsylvania Dairy Union, the Pennsylvania State Grange, the State Agricultural Society, the State Poultry Association, the State Horticultural Association and the Live Stock Breeders' Association. The reports from the various Farmers' institutes also show that the farmers of the State are a unit in favor of liberal appropriations for the development and maintenance of the agricultural work of the College.

A conference of the Allied Agricultural Organizations, at which nearly every state agricultural organization was represented by delegates, was also held on January 25th. This conference unanimously endorsed the draft of a bill presented by the Director of the State Experiment Station, providing for appropriations in accordance with the above resolutions, and appointed a Legislative Committee, of which Wm. F. Hill, Esq., Master of the State Grange, was made Chairman, to endeavor to secure the passage of the same by the Legislature. The bill will be known as the Agricultural Conference Bill and will undoubtedly have the hearty support of the agriculturists and agricultural organizations of the State.

Found Dead in a Sleigh.

Driving along a cold county road to see a suffering patient. Dr. Joseph Haas of Otto Station, Northumberland county, died in his sleigh of heart failure, superinduced by cold and exposure to the wintry blasts Friday noon, Jan. 27.

Dr. Haas was found dead in his sleigh by a traveler along the road. His horse was jogging along, not knowing it bore a dead man instead of its kind master. The physician's posture was such that the teamster knew he was ill or unconscious, and an investigation proved he was dead.

The body was taken to the home about a half mile away, and the news of the doctor's death was soon spread about the country districts in the southwestern part of the county causing much sorrow.

Although he was well advanced in age, being in his 77th year, Dr. Haas attended actively to his large practice, and even Friday was not too cold or blustering for the aged practitioner to go to the relief of suffering humanity.

The deceased was born near Sunbury.

THE PASSAGE HAS BEEN URGED

Of the Philippine Tariff Bill Pending in Congress.

TAFT WRITES PAYNE

Secretary of War Sends an Exhaustive Statement of the Reasons Which Impel Him.

ISLANDS ARE IN OUR POSSESSION.

WASHINGTON, February 2,—Secretary Taft has addressed to Chairman Payne, of the house committee on ways and means, an exhaustive statement of the reasons which impel him to urge earnestly on congress the passage during the present session of the pending Philippine tariff bill. The secretary's reasons are in substance as follows:

Whatever untimely will be done with the Philippines they are necessarily, for the next generation, a part of the United States and there is no more reason for a tariff against them than against Hawaii or Porto Rico or our territories. Under Spanish rule Philippine sugar was given a preferential rate of three cents per pound when imported into Spain, while the Spanish government took all of its tobacco to supply the government monopoly from Cuba and the Philippines. Now Spain buys in the cheapest market and the Philippines have lost the Spanish trade. The United States is under obligation to made good this deficiency which has been made larger by the increase of the import tax on sugar and tobacco by Japan and Australia, thus reducing the sales of the Philippine commodities. Unless the American tariff is reduced in favor of the Philippines the law requiring the islands trade with the United States to be carried only in American bottoms will be a great burden and injustice to the Filipinos. A total removal of duties on Philippine products entering the United States is not asked for at this time, though it will be in 1909, when an internal revenue system applied to the islands probably will develop enough revenue to enable them to have free trade. The opposition to the reduction of the duties on sugar and tobacco has been nursed by paid professional agents circulating misleading and unfounded statements, which has now developed a decided opposition to the bill by the representatives of all the sugar and tobacco interests of the country except Hawaii and Porto Rico. The entire present production of the Philippines would not appreciably affect the American market if admitted under the proposed rates. No Philippine tobacco of any kind is exported commercially to the United States, and only wrappers and fillers are raised, but tobacco cannot be laid down in New York at less than 78 cents per pound, considerably more than the price for the superior Connecticut wrapper, so there is not the slightest danger of competition with the American filler. The Philippine cigar cannot compete with the Cuban cigar and is not in the same class. The total export of Philippine cigars to all countries was only $105,000,000, whereas America produces 7,000,000,000, so that the suggestion of competition is absurd. A fifty per cent. reduction of the tariff rates would not do the islands the slightest good, and has been proved by experience with the 25 per cent. reduction.

The secretary, in conclusion, pleads for justice for the Philippines.

A Thousand Dollars Thrown AWay.

Mr. W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had lung trouble for over gfteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did; and thanks be to this great remedy, it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar and would ask those afflicted to try it." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

A BISHOP CHOSEN!

Rev. James Henry Darlington, D. D., of Brooklyn, New Head of Harrisburg Diocese.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—Rev. James Henry Darlington, D. D., rector of Christ church, Brooklyn, was elected bishop of the Harrisburg diocese on the thirteenth ballot in St. Stephen's church yesterday afternoon. His election followed a speech by C. Larue Munson, of Williamsport, representing the laity, who served notice that rather than to consent to a compromise the laity would move for an adjournment.

The vote of the last ballot follows:

Dr. Darlington, 28 clerical 73 lay; Rev. Wm. Frederick Faber, rector of Grace church, LockPort, New York, one clerical, seven lay; Rev. Paul Matthews, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, Cincinnati, 11 clerical and 13 lay; Rev. Chas. F. Williams, D. D., dean of Trinity cathedral, Cleveland, one clerical.

Following the announcement of the ballot the election of Dr. Darlington was made unanimous, after which the convention adjourned.

The committee will visit the new bishop next Tuesday at Brooklyn.

New York, Feb. 2.—The Rev. Dr. James Henry Darlington, rector of Christ church, Brooklyn, said last night that he had just received word of his election as bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Harrisburg, Pa. He would give the matter careful consideration, he added, and make known his decision later.

Rev. Dr. Darlington has been rector of Christ church for nearly twenty-two years, it being his only pastorate. He was born in Brooklyn in 1856 and is a graduate of New York University and Princeton seminary. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1802 and was archdeacon of Northern Brooklyn from 1896 to 1898.

The Engineering Magazine.

The Engineering Magazine for February contains two very important articles on the Panama Canal. The first by General Abbott, shows very clearly that the cry for a sea-level waterway is based on a widely mistaken sentiment and a serious misunderstanding of facts—that it is, indeed, but a revival of de Lesseps' original plan, and would be immensely more expensive and slower to build, more difficult and uncertain to maintain, and more dangerous to navigate, than the type with locks and a summit level as proposed by the preceeding commission. The second article is by Mr. C. E. Grunsky, a member of the Commission, presented under the auspices of Admiral Walker, and is a direct, authoritative statement of the work so far accomplished, the general policy of the Commission, and the organization by which they propose to carry it out.

The principal illustrated features are a review of the Canadian Niagara power development, by Mr. C. B. Smith, who was himself in charge of construction of some of the largest work done; and a companion discussion of the present state of electric-power supply from central stations in Great Britain, by Mr. G. L. Addenbrook. These substantially cover the entire present and future prospects of the most important power-engineering undertakings in the modern world. Mr. William Maude gives a most interesting account of the re-opening of some old placers in Brazil, and of the attendant hydraulic work under strange conditions; Mr. P. R. Moses discusses the economy obtainable in practice by the use of the small sizes of anthracite coal in the power plant; and Mr. R. Emerson describes a working plan for the care, oversight and control of the small-tool equipment in the shop. The number carries the usual full review and Index of the Engineering Press.—The Engineering Magazine, New York.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson, of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

A LASTING EFFECT

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in Bellefonte.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer but to cures lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

Wm. E. Haines living at 133 W. Beaver St., says "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since 1896. It was at that time I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I made a statement for publication recommending them. The cure has proved to be permanent and it gives me pleasure to once more endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Before I used this preparation I had been suffering for six years with a lameness of the back and a dull lingering aching over the kidneys accompanied with severe pains in the head. My eyes pained me. Being on night work I had to have my rest during the day but when I was in this condition I could not get any rest at all, and was, in fact unfit to work. Reading of the many cures made in Bellefonte by Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the Bush Block Drug Store. They banished the whole trouble, and during the past eight years I have had no return of it. With this proof I am well able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

In the current security market activity means strength--on any reaction, dullness ensues.

The closing of the week finds a broad, buoyant market, led by such standard properties as Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Reading, St. Paul and the Vanderbilt group. Industrials are relatively quiet, but very firm. Developments of the week have in the main made for improvement--notably the excellent statement of the United States Steel Corporation for the last quarter of 1904 and the accompanying fine statement of Pennsylvania Railroad earnings, the two, of course, going hand in hand, affording convincing testimony to the genuineness of industrial revival. Heavy gold exports, rightly viewed, are really a bullish item, as they actually consist of loans placed abroad, proving the wonderful strength of our financial position and proving how conditions were changed since we were a debtor nation.

About the only disturbing news of the day is the report of a rate war in grain traffic, the very fierceness of which, if the stories received are verified, will bring its own speedy termination.

Speculation remains dormant--the buying now going on being almost wholly of investment character. The bond market has been so drained by long-continued purchasing that investors are compelled to turn their attention to stocks. Naturally, they favor standard dividend-paying properties, the character of which is assured. Pennsylvania, for example, is being taken in great blocks, with resultant improvement in its price--an improvement more than warranted by the excellent condition and good prospects ahead of this property. It is often a matter of comment that Pennsylvania should sell below New York Central, and, except for old-time sentiment, there seems no reason why it should. Baltimore & Ohio also finds many purchasers. The statement accompanying its dividend declaration this week clearly foreshadows increase next summer. Buying of Reading must have more in it than appears on the surface; there seems to be an insatiable demand for it--collateral explanation is partly found in the belief that Jersey Central will be advanced to a 10 per cent. dividend basis, to the benefit of Reading and controlling owner. Thus, we see the whole group, of which Pennsylvania is the parent system, moving harmoniously with consistent logical strength.

Some startling price move ments are recorded for the week in certain of the Vanderbilt roads--notably Omaha and Big Four. Here, again, explanation is found by investment demand, upward price movement being accelerated by the fact that these properties have for a long time been comparatively neglected in trading. For the time being there is not much doing in low-priced issues, with the notable exception of Erie common, which maintains its recent rise firmly, and which is being accumulated by powerful interests. It is thought in well-informed quarters that plans will shortly be matured for retiring Erie second preferred and placing the common upon a dividend basis. earnings show that even as the various stock issues of Erie stand now, a fair dividend could be paid upon the common without reducing the surplus below the safety line. Southern Railway is another low-priced property where earnings warrant dividend expectation.

General conditions remain entirely sound. Commodity prices, with the exception of cotton, show no recession from high remunerative levels, while the cotton market exhibits distinct signs of hardening. Of course, the bulk of the cotton crop was marketed at much higher prices than have recently ruled. Industrial conditions are exceptionally firm--notably testified to by the unfilled orders reported as on hand January 1 by the United States Steel Corporation--five million tons--an amount only exceeded once before in the history of the company. General trade throughout the country, as reported by the mercantile agencies, is active, and promises to develop into a record year's business. Money remains abnormally easy, with practically unlimited supplies. All these fundamental factors combine to build up a strong security market.

The hour of speculative activity must be near at hand.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7th.

President Roosevelt who has among many others freely expressed convictions that of regarding no time like the present for work, may yet decide that an extra session of Congress in the spring for legislating on the railway rate question will be advisable. The general impression has been that extra session would not be called before the early autumn, but no one realizes more keenly than the president how insistent the country has become in its demand that something should be done, and quickly, in the matter. If the extra session is postponed until fall the result will be more killing of time, and possible postponement of action for another year.

President Mitchell, of Oregon, who is under indictment for having received money for services rendered in having a land claim pushed through the department is still in Congress and continues to assert his conviction that he will be entirely cleared when the court meets in April. Senator Mitchell has not appeared in the Senate since he made his dramatic speech on the floor of the Senate and so positively asserted his innocence.

Agricultural interests absorbed the Senate Thursday and for once the farmer was the man of the hour. For almost an entire afternoon the Senate was engaged in a discussion of the policy of distributing ordinary farm and garden seeds from the agricultural department through members of Congress. Mr. Lodge and those with him in the debate on the subject stated that the seeds sent out were the common varieties to be bought of dealers everywhere and urged that only rare varieties should be supplied free to the people. He criticized the appropriation of $240,000 for supplying seeds which were of the cheapest and commonest varieties. He characterized the whole scheme as a humbug and added: "year after year we are appropriating the people's money for the purpose of making gifts to our constituents. It is a pleasant thing to do, we will like to do it but we should not forget that we are making the country pay for it."

Persons deeply interested in the proposition to authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix railroad rates view with alarm the delay that is likely to take place before any legislation can be effected, With every week of delay the pressure on Congress from outside sources increases and the problem of legislation grows correspondingly more complex. The New York Chamber of Commerce, one of the wealthiest and most powerful organizations in the United States, has opposed the proposition to enlarge the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates for the railroads and in Iowa the Farmers Alliance have hanged in effigy Congressman Hepburn because of his attitude on the question. Washington is overrun with representatives of the various railroads and also the agents of great industrial companies all using the most powerful influence against and for the rate bill. Thus it will be seen that many cooks are helping to make broth which is likely to be spoiled or burned altogether. Congressmen who keep their ears to the ground, and the most patriotic Americans cannot deny that there are many such, find themselves cruelly confused by the various demands. The president who has been eager for the Senate to act upon rate legislation at this session has, nevertheless, acceded to their statement that it would be impossible and he has made his official and personal plans with the view of the extra session in October, but realizing the importance of pushing the matter through at the earliest time it may be that he will sacrifice his personal convenience and decide upon a spring session.

The season of resignations is at hand and the Secretaries of the different government departments are in daily receipt of the resignations of men who preserve their heads from the axe by stepping down and out. During the next few weeks there will be a clearing in all the departments and synchronous with the stock taking of merchants will come the inventory of the capable material in the government bureaus. The clearing up of the Post Office Department has set an example for all the other branches of the government work and whole sale changes are predicted. The work in the Post Office department which has been carried on so actively ever since the death of post master General Payne goes steadily on. Four letter carriers in the Toledo post office were dismissed this week for alleged connection with fake mining schemes and thirty others are required to show cause why they should not also be dismissed from the service. This is but an indication of the purification of the department that is going on in all parts of the country, and when Mr. Cortelyou returns from Europe and takes charge the process is likely to accelerate. Mr. Cortelyou, though a young man, has been tried in many capacities and has not been found wanting. The public expects rather an unusual quality of ability in his administration of the Post Office Department. With the retirement of Mr. Bristow who was the only person who could have divided credit and authority with Mr. Cortelyou in the department the latter will have a free hand to continue reforms so ably inaugurated by Mr. Bristow. It is not often in any department that there can be found too many honest and able men, but it was clear that in Mr. Bristow and Mr. Cortelyou the post office was embarrassed with capable reformers. To Mr. Wynne fell the unpleasant task of making Mr. Bristow's place uncomfortable and when Mr. Cortelyou takes charge he will have a clear field.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Our Young Men's Christian Association.

EDITOR OF REPUBLICAN:

An incident which occurred very recently leads me to ask the use of some of your valuable space this week to answer some criticisms which have been made of the organization I represent.or more particularly of the Building movement upon which I have been working for the past two years. Some time ago we made an appeal to a gentleman in a nearby city for some assistance in raising the fund to complete our building, knowing he was interested in work of this kind. He received our representative cordially and after hearing our plans said he would consider the matter and would consult some Bellefonte friends. Last week he was seen again and informed us that he had consulted his Bellefonte friends and they advised him to have nothing to do with the movement, as Bellefonte could never support such a work as we were planning. Thus the chances of any support from this source were lost

In this enlightened age, when the Young Men's Christian Association has reached the prominent position it holds in the battle against unrighteousness and for physical, moral, intellectual and spiritual upbuilding, when it is reaching classes of men who were considered almost beyond reach, when men in the highest positions of honor in this and every land are publicly commending its work, and great corporations are investing their funds in its work because it makes better men and so better employees, in this age, I say, it would seem scarcely necessary to devote any time or energy in defending its right of existence. Every fair minded man who has made any study of its work will grant that.

But two criticisms have been made of our building movement in Bellefonte which if true reflect great discredit on the management and make possible such instances as the one we cited above. If not true, the movement deserves different treatment from the hands of these friends and others who have vigorously circulated the same objections here at home.

The first objection is that we are spending too much money on our plant Every workman must nave a certain equipment if he is to be successful. A carpenter who appeared on a job with no tools would hardly be considered by the contractor as ready for work. The same is true of the Association. The tools with which it works are those which have been selected for it after sixty years of experience. They consist of Reading Room, Game Room, Gymnasium, Baths, Bowling Alley and such other attractive features as will attract and hold young men. With less than this the Association is not fully equipped. The the location must be central so that it will be near the usual gathering place of young men and at the same time catch the transient visitor in town. It should also be in such a location that any portion of its building or buildings rentable will find a ready occupant. Its home should have an air of attractiveness and permanency. It must possess all of these features if it is to compete with the alluring attractiveness in which vice is today clothed. Our young men are our Nation's most valuable asset. As they go so goes the nation. Are they not worth saving? The Devil believes they are worth working for. He spares no expense in his attempts to wreck their lives and should not we as citizens, to say nothing of our position as Christians, be willing to spend something, yes much, if need be, to save them? We firmly believe that if the building we are erecting, with the furnishings which will be put into it, should be instrumental in saving one boy, the $22,000 it costs will be money well expended. It would be if it were your boy.

The second objection is that the work cannot be maintained. We who have been instrumental in launching this work have not gone into it without thought of whether or not it could be maintained after the building was once completed. A careful estimate of the probable annual cost of maintaining the work is $3,000. This provides for a capable Physical Director in charge of the Gymnasium which is very essential to its success. We submit the following figures to show where we expect to get the funds to meet this annual Budget:

200 Senior Members at	$5.00	....	$1000.00
75 Junior " "	3.00	.....	225.00
50 young ladies "	4.00	.....	200.00
100 dressing boxes "	1.00	....	100.00
Collections			50.00
Rent offices and Stable			225.00
Games, Entertainments, etc.		....	200.00
Popular Subscriptions			1000.00
(Heretofore $1500 to $1800)
			$3000.00

We believe the above estimates are fair and reasonable We would be glad if any error in them would be pointed out to us. If we are wrong we want to know it.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been organized in Bellefonte over 35 years. Many of those years have been dark ones but it's a dark cloud that has no silver lining and we believe that the earnest efforts of those who have helped the Association in her struggles will be rewarded by seeing her fully equipped and doing a work which any man interested in the welfare of his town will be proud of. We are not hunting the mythical end of a rainbow but dealing with facts and those who raise these objections should find something more substantial upon which to base their arguments than their own personal feelings or perchance, their selfish desires in the matter.

Yours truly,
L. B. HINDMAN,
General Secretary Y. M. C. A.

Centre County Statistics.

From the Centre Hall Reporter we glean the following interesting item in regard to county statistics. From an inspection of the annual report made by Prothonotary, Recorder and Register is gleaned the following statistics as to some of the work done in those offices affecting the people of the county during the year 1904:

Judgments entered on confession	439
Suits brought—summons, ejectments, replevins, etc.	70
Transcripts of judgments from justices	44
Appeals from judgments of justice	54
Divorce suits brought	18
Decrees in divorce	15
Decrees refusing divorce	2
Deeds entered	886
Mortgages entered	253
Articles of agreement, leases, etc.	123
Letters testamentary	46
Letters administrative	54

The officers pay a state tax of fifty cents on each item, except appeals and transcripts on which twenty-five cents is paid,

Faith in the Ground Hog Shattered.

The prints all around are declaring that the woodchuck came out of his hiding place Thursday long enough to see his shadow, for the sun shone just a little between blasts, then returned to remain six weeks while the cold weather continues. But it is left for a number of Pittsburgers to contradict the "whole push," for they kept watch for the animal for six hours in the backyard of Joseph E Wall on Sheridan avenue of that city and didn't see a hare of him.

As the story goes, last fall Mr. Wall captured a groundhog and placed the animal in a house made of two barrels placed end to end, with the heads knocked out. One barrel was filled with soil, and in the soil the groundhog made a home about the middle of November and retired for the winter. Thursday Mr. Wall and his friends asked to see whether or not the animal would come forth into the second barrel, which had been left open with a grating in front. But the groundhog failed to appear. Some of the watchers wanted to bet that the groundhog was dead, but Mr. Wall, who was formerly a trapper, declared it was alive, but that the groundhog delusion had been shattered. But the superstition which is supposed to have originated among the negroes of Alabama has received a black eye, but that will clear up, and the groundhog delusion will continue to stick to Candlemas day as tight as filth does to a vagrant.

John Wanamaker Ill.

For some months Mr. Wanamaker's friends and business associates have been worried over the general condition of his health and have pleaded with him to take more rest. Upon the urgent advice of his physicians Mr. Wanamaker had planned to start early next month on an extended foreign trip, visiting countries of mild climate. Joseph Elkinton, of Philadelphia, was to have accompanied him.

Last week his illness assumed such a nature that he immediately was ordered to leave for the South. He started for Florida on Friday.

The Upward Outlook.

Our people seem to be on the upward grade financially, commercially and morally, our nation was never in a more hopeful condition. There are very great problems in the future to be met by our government, which will require the best statesmen, and the most expert diplomats for their satisfactory solution. There is also a general spirit of uplift and progress in the religious, and christian life of our people, and this spirit is not limited to our own land but is world-wide, and pervading other nations.

During the last two years a wave of religious revivals has been sweeping over the different portions of the world. The revival be gan in Melbourne, a city in Australia, under the Rev. Dr. Torrey, of Chicago, Ill. The news of that work went everywhere and resulted in a similar work in other places. Dr. Torrey went from Australia to England where they held great meetings last winter and are still holding similar meeting this year.

The great union meetings in Pittsburg last winter had their start by the good news from the Melbourne meetings. Independently of these meeting a great revivlal hes started in Wales, and is now progressing. It has swept over that country stirring their emotional religious nature to its very depths. Thousands are being converted, and the revival is having its effect on saloons and all other forms of evil. A London paper states, in regard to the results of this wave, "That public houses are losing their trade, foot ball clubs are experiencing a depression, and meetings for prayer and praise are carried on by night as well as by day. Are we not possibly on the verge of a world-wide revival." These meetings are largely under the leadership of Evan Roberts, a young Welsh coal miner.

In this country, a most remarkable revival is in progress now, in the city of Schnectady, N. Y. Its leader is Rev. George R. Luner, pastor of the Dutch Reformed church of that city, formerly he was assistant pastor of the LaFayette Avenue Presbyterian church in Brooklyn, associated with Mr. Luner is the Rev. Mr. Adams, pastor of the State street Methodist Episcopal church of Schnectady. No evangelists were imported, but the home pastors began the work and have carried it on. The whole city is stirred with a religious and fervid zeal. Saloons and theatres are practically emptied, children march the streets by the hundreds singing gospel songs.

The New York Sun speaking of this movement says: "All centres of worldly attractions are largely emptied and the work of soul saving goes on," great crowds noon after noon, afternoon after afternoon, and night after night attend these meetings."

There is a revival of power in progress in the city af Denver, Col., under the direction of Rev. Dr. J. W. Chapman. Friday Jan. 20th was observed as a day of prayer for the city. The mayor issued a proclamation that all places of business be closed during the hours of service, and the State Legislature adjourned for the day. Such meetings in different parts of the world are a very hopeful sign of the times. They are remarkable in that they are in the midst of a general prosperity.

Women Interested in Mrs. Edwards.

CHESTER, Feb. 3.—Prominent women of this city have interested themselves in the case of Mrs. Kate Edwards, the woman who is to hang at Reading for the murder of her husband. Mrs. Dr. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Emma Bolton have a large petition, which is being signed by women of the New Century Club and other organizations. This will be presented to Governor Pennypacker, praying for a respite or life imprisonment.

Centre Hall.

Austin Krape, wife and daughter Edna, of Reedsville, paid a visit to Mrs. Krape's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Geary, last Sabbath, returning on Monday.

Eugene Bell, of the Victor Bath Mf'g Co., of New York, having been called home on account of the illness of Mrs. Bell some time ago, is with us again. Mr. Bell's health has been poorly for some time but he finds that the climate of this place improves his condition very much.

Many invalids, particularly those afflicted with tuberculosis, are advised by their physicians to go to the Adirondacks on account of the pure air, but I do not believe you can find a purer atmosphere than that of Centre Hall and vicinity, The rock being of limestone formation and quite porus permits the absorption of all noxious gases. And the altitude is sufficient to give us a pure atmosphere.

Joshua Potter, who moved from near Centre Hall to Clairton, in Allegheny Co., is in our midst again. The family will move to their old home in the spring.

A Big Musical Treat in View.

Mr. J. W. Canoly, business manager of the "Liberty Bells" under the management of Fred C. Borger Jr., was a caller at the office of the Daily News today.

The delightful musical comedy is from the pen of Harry B. Smith and is fresh from an unprecedented run at the Madison Square Theatre, New York. Mr. Canoly states absolutely the entire original production will be presented here next Wednesday, Feb. 15th. The cast is a great one, including Toby Craige Betsey LaRue, Mabel Kip, the Pink Pajama Girl, Carrie Wilson, Will Conley, Frank Farrington and a host of other well-known stars.

A JOLLY RE-UNION.

Centre County Folks Living in Philadelphia Perpetuate Home Loyalty.

Natives of Centre county, who are now Philadelphians, to the number of two hundred or more, participated in the annual midwinter reception and dance of the Centre County Association Monday night. The entertainment was held in Mosebach's Hall, at Thirteenth street and Girard avenue, Philadelphia.

Centre county folks are noted for their clannishness. They were the first of all emigrants from up State who have settled in Philadelphia to establish an association for the perpetuation of county loyalty and social intercourse.

In the summer they hold picnics, and in the wiuter entertainments, while the men hold a banquet "for just men" once a year.

In addition to the social features a business meeting was held at which these officers were elected: President, Dr. Roland G. Curtin; vice president, Thomas Foster; treasurer, L. Olin Meek; secretary, Dr. S. Grey Mattern; directors General B. F Fisher, Ira D. Garman, Dr. George P. Rishel, J. Emory Hoy, B. Frank Schaeffer, Charles McCafferty, the Rev. Dr. Robert Harkinson, Professor George P. Bible, Thomas J. Loughrey, Max Liveright, Professor William T. Meyer, Dr. Stuart C. Runkle, Thomas Foster.

Ex-State Treasurer Harris Weds.

Frank G. Harris, of Clearfield, Pa., former State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, and Miss Glenora Gearhart, of Philadelphia and Clearfield, were quietly married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William A. Bloomer, at Asheville, N. C., Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 1.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Siler, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church, South, Asheville. Only the members of the families were present.

Miss Gearhart had resided in Asheville about three weeks, the guest of her sister. She spent some time there last winter, and was accompanied by her mother, who is now a resident of Trenton, N. J.

Mr. Harris came earlier in the week, and the marriage license was obtained Wednesday afternoon. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harris left for St. Augustine. From Florida they will go to New Mexico, and from there to California, before returning to their future home in Clearfield.

The Watchword of Women.

Modesty is woman's watchword. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits disease of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been lead to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modest. An sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with nosdvertising orother printing uponthem. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescripttion has been long hailed as "God-send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neiter opium cocaine or other narcotic.

HEALTH is fully restored by the great alterative and tonic, Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you remember the old saying,—health IS WEALTH.

BUSINESS MEN OF BELLEFONTE!

This Should Interest You and Attract Your Attention.

The Academy simply as a business proposition commands your most thoughtful and generous consideration at once.

This institution has been laboring for one hundred years to further the educational interests of Bellefonte and vicinity. It has accomplished its work with flattering success and holds an enviable reputation among the leading colleges of this country as a high class preparatory academy. By reason of this reputation many students from a distance have been led to attend this school and have brought thousands of dollars to be circulated here.

It is in fact a worthy enterprise from a business point of view, and a steadily growing enterprise.

The business men and public spirited citizens of our town are wise and far sighted and doing no more than they ought to do, when they respond to the appeal now being made to them through the popular subscription columns of the News and our weeklies to raise a fund which will enable the improvement committee to make the academy campus as attractive as the buildings. Those business men who have received much patronage during all the past years from the academy ought to give an impetus to the present movement by promptly announcing the amounts they will subscribe. Others are watching to see what they are going to do in the matter before they committ themselves. The grounds must and will be improved, for the popular subscription column is going to prove a success.

Let every one help a little. The academy buildings and ground must be attractive in appearance, to attract students, that is the first important step. The second important step to take, if this academy enterprise is to continue to be a business benefit to this community, is to encourage that effort which tends to hold these students here when once they have been introduced.

One object of the new gymnasium enterprise is to provide proper physical exercise and amusement for these academy boys. The school these days which has no gymnasium facilities to offer will soon lose its desirable boys. They will seek schools where such advantagee are offered, and nearly all successful schools have their gymnasiums.

The lack of this feature has been a serious handicap to the management of our academy.

Pay your subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A., fund and let these students from a distance see that the gymnasium is a sure thing. With the academy grounds beautified and the gymnasium provided, the future and continued success of the academy is assured for all time to come. You probably will never be asked again to encourage these enterprises in this manner. They are inseparably related. The centennial life of the academy merits such an encouragement from the public.

TUMBLER TRICK.

You Seem to Force an Ordinary Glass Through a Table.

Many entertaining tricks can be done without the use of apparatus or confederates. To force an ordinary glass through the center of a table so that it will fall on the floor underneath will cause much astonishment on the part of the spectators.

All that is needed are a plain table, a plain drinking glass without a stem and a page from a newspaper. Have the spectators examine the table and satisfy themselves that there are no trapdoors or springs connected with it. Then announce what you propose doing.

Place the glass on the table mouth downward and sit down in a chair facing the audience. Place the newspaper over the glass and carefully press the center of the paper all around the glass until it conforms perfectly to the shape of the glass. Move the paper and glass around until you get the glass to the edge of the table, and it will fall noiselessly into your lap.

THE TUMBLER TRICK.

Continue moving the paper around as if the glass were still under it. It will appear that way to the audience. When in the center of the table hit the paper where it conforms to the shape of the glass a resounding whack, at the same time opening your knees, allowing the glass to fall on to the floor under the table. To every appearance you have forced the glass through the table on to the floor. This is a very effective trick if it is skillfully performed.

WATCH YOUR VOICE.

Do Not Allow It to Become Loud or Sharp or Hard.

Kind hearts are more plentiful than persistently kind and gentle voices, and yet love loses much of its power when the voice is sharp and hard. Try, therefore, most earnestly to acquire the right tone in speaking, and guard yourself carefully from falling into careless and bad habits of voice. Often a sharp voice shows far more ill will than the heart feels, but people do not know that the speaker's "bark is worse than her bite," and they believe her to be ill tempered and disagreeable. It is so easy to pick up a sharp and snappish manner of speaking. Very often it is acquired in mirth and in the give and take battles of words in which boys and girls delight. There is no malice in their sallies, and a great deal of fun, but meanwhile the voice is often acquiring a sharp and shrewish tone which sticks through life, making it stir up strife and ill will among its listeners. So watch the tone in which you speak and take care that it is gentle and sweet. A kind voice is like music in the home and is to the heart what light and beauty are to the eye.

Asbestus.

You have probably heard the word asbestus used in connection with theater curtains and with various methods of rendering a theater or other building fireproof. Asbestus is a fibrous mineral that cannot be burned. Chemically it is a silicate of lime and magnesium. When torn to pieces in a machine made for that purpose it looks like a mass of cotton, and these fibers can be spun into threads or strings and then woven into fabrics useful for various purposes. The mantels of our gaslights are tied to a supporting wire by a piece of asbestus string.—St. Nicholas.

Doll House.

By exercising a little ingenuity a bed for her dolly that many a small girl will find satisfactory may be made from the pasteboard boxes that find their way into most homes. The lid is stood on end and firmly attached to the box proper. Any soft, pretty fabric will serve for curtains and a valance if desired, and the customary bed furnishings may be as pretty as Miss Dolly or her little mistress could desire.

The vinegar cruet should be put into a closed closet after each meal. Light renders vinegar tasteless and takes away its snap.

Big Spot on the Sun Rouses great Interest.

Astronomers all over the country are at present moreinterested in the big sun spot than anything else.

There is a spot on the sun that surpassed anything that has been seen since 1885. It is located on the upper left portion of the sun and is of immense size reaching across an area of nearly one-tenth of the diameter of the sun.

It can easily be seeh with a piece of smoked glass and last evening as the sun was sinking into the western horizon it was plainly visible to the naked eye. There must be some tremendous convulsions going on in the sun and atmospheric disturbances can be expected when the spot nears the central meridian of the sun.

The reason why there is so much interest in this spot is because the year 1905 is likely to be notable for similar disturbances since it is the year of the sun spot maximum. It was noted many years ago by astronomers that the number of spots on the sun varied according to the periodic law and it was soon found that it took something over 11 years for the sun to pass from one period of great spot activity to another.

The last maximum period was 1893 and the minimum was 1900, when the sun was practically free from spots. Since that time the spots have begun to show with greater frequency, and in October, 1893, an enormous spot was the cause of the greatest magnetic disturbance that had been felt for ten years. All the electrical instruments in the northern hemisphere were affected and brilliant aurora or northern lights accompanied these disturbances.

It is on account of these extraordinary magnetic and radio-active influences which are in excess at the time of great sun spots that the appearance of the first of these enormous disturbances in 1905 arouses the greatest interest, especially in these days when the theories of the make-up of the universe are being effected by what is being learned about radium and other like radioactive substances.

Whether the present spot will have its full effect cannot be told until it passes the central medidian of the sun. But in view of the possibilities one should be on the lookout during these next few winter evenings for a beautiful display or aurors, while the telegraph companies may find their wires going out of service in a day or so, as happened in 1892 and '03,

No More Stomach Trouble.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Tons of Gold for the Czar.

New York, Feb 4.—The largest cargo of gold coin which ever left this point was carried to France in the "strong room" of the French liner La Champagne when she sailed Thursday. About eighteen tons, mostly in United States coin packed in stout barrels, was put aboard the steamship Wednesday and was carefully guarded by a force of armed men Thursday night.

The shipment, which, it is believed, goes to the account of the Russian government in the bank of France to support the government bonds in anticipation of further and more serious revolutionary outbreaks, amounts to $9,131,422. Only $681 423 of this is in gold bars. The rest is in coin, the recent extensive shipment of gold abroad having exhausted the supply of bullion on hand at the assay office.

Surrounded by a guard of armed men, several large truck loads of kegs packed with gold were transferred to the steamship dock Thursday and safely stowed away in the steel vault of the liner. Just before the sailing hour the guard was withdrawn and the vault locked. During the trip the captain, pursuer and one other officer of the ship will open the vault at noon each day.

The eighteen tons of gold which left this port Thursday is packed in 175 kegs. The coin is packed in sawdust, just as shippers pack glassware, and each keg is sealed. In addition to the Paris shipment, about $2,000,000 was also sent to Cuba Friday.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls. We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

CASSATT FAVORS REGULATION.

Pennsylvania Recognizes Reasonableness of WISE LEGISLATION

Looking to Reasonable Adjustment—Question is Contounded in the Minds of the People.

HE ONLY WANTS FAIR PLAY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 4.—By reason of the wide discussion of the subject of Interstate Commerce legislation and of the advanced views which the Pennsylvania railroad management was believed to entertain upon this question, a representative of The Associated Press called on A. J. Cassatt president of the Pennsylvania railroad company, yesterday for the purpose of ascertaining his view and the views of his company upon this subject. In response to inquiries, Mr. Cassatt said that the management of the Pennsylvania Railroad company had for some years past recognized the reasonableness of legislation providing for the governmental regulation of rates under proper safeguards to the owners of railway properties. While these views Mr. Cassatt said, had not at first been shared by some of the leading railroads who naturally had a good deal of apprehension as to the result of conferring the power to deal with the complicated questions involved upon any body composed of men without special training and experience in such matters, yet he believed there was now a general disposition to acquiesce in proper legislation upon this subject.

QUESTION IS CONFOUNDED.

Mr. Cassatt said the question of preventing discriminations or preferences between shipper by the payment of rebates of by any other device seemed to be confounded in the minds of the public with that of governmental regulation of rates. The former subject was already dealt with by the federal statute known as the Elkin act, passed in 1903, he said, in as effective a way as possible by any legislative enactment unless, perhaps, in the case of private car lines, where further legislation might possibly be needed to bring them under the provisions of the Elkins act, and that this would be ment by the Overstreet bill, which is now on its passage through Congress.

Mr. Cassatt did not care to discuss the details of a bill, but was clear in his conviction that any legislation which would deny the right accorded to every other corporation and to every private citizen to appeal to the determination of questions affecting property in which so many hundreds of thousands of citizens are directly interested, either as employes or as holders of securities and upon the prosperity of which that of the general business of the country so largely depends, would not only be an unjust and unfair discrimination, but might result disastrously to the public welfare Mr. Cassatt referred to the fact that the amount of money invested in railway property was about twelve thousand million dollars, represented by securities mostly held in this country and very widely distributed among the people, and that the number of employes was about 1,200,000.

McClellan--Wagner.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wagner, near Spring Mills, was the scene of a pretty wedding, Wednesday, 1st inst, when their daughter, Tressie I., was united in marriage to Frank J. McClellan, by the bride's uncle, Rev. William J. Wagner, of Buckhorn, assisted by the groom's brother, Rev. William A. McClellan, of Pleasant Unity.

The bride wore a charming gown of white silk trimmed with silk chiffon lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The ceremony was performed at noon, after which a sumptuous dinner was served. The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful gifts. Over seventy guests were present.

The honeymoon will be spent visiting friends and relatives. The groom is a telegraph operator and for the past four years has been employed by the Wabash Railroad Company.—Centre Reporter.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

GOOD BREAD.

The Way to Have Loaves That Will Be Satiny and Elastic.

Put four tablespoonfuls of shortening, either butter and lard mixed or one of the good fats on the market; two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a tablespoonful of salt into a bread raiser and pour over it a quart of boiling water. Place a yeast cake in half a cupful of lukewarm water and stir with a teaspoon till dissolved. When the water in the bread pan becomes lukewarm pour in the yeast and stir thoroughly. Add five cupfuls of sifted flour, beating it as it goes in with a wire whisk. When it becomes too thick to move with the whisk use a slitted wooden spoon and stir thoroughly, so that the flour and wetting may become well mixed. When it is spongy, but not dry, turn it out on a well floured molding cloth and knead. It can hardly be too well kneaded. It is the kneading that gives it the satiny smoothness and the elasticity which are invariable tests of good bread. It ought even during this process to begin to show bubbles in its texture. Knead them out as much as possible. When dough is put back in the pan to rise with bubbles showing here and there it will be full of holes and poor of taste after it has been baked. After the kneading is finished and the dough feels as smooth as silk wash the bread raiser and dry it; then rub well inside with butter or lard before putting the dough back again for the second raising. If this plan is followed the bread will slip out so clean after it has risen that the pan will scarcely require washing.—Good Housekeeping.

Has Been Reprieved.

Waterbury, Vt., Feb. 3.—Mrs Mary Rogers who was to have been hanged today for the murder of her husband, has been reprieved until June 3.

The governor said that the reprieve was grantod in order that opportunity might be given for a new trial.

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 3.—Gov. Bell made a statement this morning regarding the case of Mrs. Rogers. He said:

"I do not believe that the people of Vermont desire that Mary Rogers shall be granted a reprieve. I am greatly surprised that the sheriffs of Windsor came before me with a petition for a reprieve. Their mission is to execute the laws without fear or favor, and their action was both unprecedented and out of place. I do not regret my statement to them that any oone or all of them were at liberty to resign their office. I consider that they should have been, and were, rightly censured for presenting a petition for a reprieve while they were the sworn officers who are called upon to see to it that the sentence imposed upon Mary Rogers by the supreme court is executed.

"It has been stated that High Sheriff Peck and his deputies may resign and thus balk the execution of Mary Rogers on Friday, providing that I do not grant a reprieve today. You may state that if this should occur the state of Vermont would be able to provide officers of the law within twenty-four hours who would execute Mary Rogers according to the sentence imposed upon her.

"Personally, I put no faith in the confession made by Leon Perham at the eleventh hour. Perham, by his confession, is a liar, and why should he be believed now more than at the trial? Moreover his testimony, given at the trial, was corroborated by other evidence."

Windsor, Vt, Feb. 3.—Five hundred dollars was offered to Harold Harpin, a guard in the state prison, if he would carry a package of poison to Mrs. Mary V, Rogers, convicted of the murder of her husband, who is under death sentence. The offer was made in an anonymous letter from Boston, containing $250 in bills, which Harpin received recently. The writer offered to send the other $250 as soon as the poison was delivered to Mrs. Rogers. The guard turned the letter over to Superintendent Oakes, who showed it to Gov. Bell. Postal authorities have been asked to investigate the letter.

A woman worn-out, who never has to lift a hand for herself, who does not know the meaning of the word "worry"! How can it be possible? That it is possible is proved by the experience of many a woman who, because of sleeplessness, nervousness, backache and other womanly ills, becomes an utter physical wreck.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for five years with inflammation which caused violent pain and often torture so bad at times that I could not be about to attend to my daily duties," writes Mrs. Julius C. Bell, of Bathroad, Kingston, Ont. "Life was simply misery to me and I did not know which way to turn for relief. Had tried doctors but found they did not help me. My druggist advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—eulogizing it in glowing terms. I decided to give it a trial and brought a bottle home. I am happy to say that after the use of the first bottle I felt so much improved I decided to take another and after that a third bottle. I have good reasons to be pleased, for I am to-day a well woman, work is easy and the world looks bright. I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Keep sweet if you do get an ugly valen'ine.

—Mr. Eli Townsend, of Philipsburg, who has been ill with pneumonia is reported as improving.

—James Jodon, of Axe Mann, fell on the ice near the Nittany furnace Monday night and broke his leg in two places.

—The family of the late Senator A. E. Patton have placed a handsome $5,000 monument at his grave in the Curwensville cemetery.

—Mrs. Ross Parker, entertained a party of young ladies at euchre on Monday night, in honor of Miss Grace Smith, of Centre Hall, and Miss Nell Burns, of Howard.

—Charles L. Beck, of Rebersburg, Centre County, has been granted a patent on a compound for removing paint. The patent was secured through the agency of C. A. Snow, Washington, D. C.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Miller, of East High street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a young carpenter at their home Wednesday morning. The baby weighed thirteen pounds when born.

—Lieut. W. B. McCaskey, of Beech Creek, well-known in this place, and Lieut W P. Kitts, both of the 21st regiment, with their wives sailed from San Francisco, on Wednesday, for Manila for three years' service in the Philippines.

—Physical director W. N. Golden, though recently made a very tempting offer by the officials of Perdue University, has decided to remain at State College and has, it is stated, signed a five years contract.

—Mrs. John Lose, who makes her home with Mr. Clayton Heckman in Buffalo Run Valley, slipped on an apple peeling and fell Tuesday morning and broke her right arm. She is a sister of Mrs. Daniel Heckman of this place.

—C. Edward Cooke has purchased the Butts home on Linn street and will move his family there. Mr. Cooke conducted a stationery store at Jeannette, but he has decided to move the stock here and will close it out in the store in the McClure block on Bishop street.

—Mr. Frank E. Naginey has purchased from the Joseph Bros. & Co. the building on Allegheny street in which his store is now located. The price paid was $6,000. The Joseph Bros., recently bought the property from the Linn and Blanchard heirs for $5 500,

—Miss Nettie Bair, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bair, entertained quite a number of her young lady friends on Saturday evening. The Young ladies enjoyed themselves at playing flinch, carim and other games, after which, choice refreshments were served.

—Dr. and Mrs. George D. Green of Lock Haven are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter at their home Tuesday Jan. 31st. The little lady has already been named Eleanor Blanchard Green. Both mother and babe are getting along nicely. Mrs. Green was formerly Miss Rebecca Blanchard of Bellefonte.

—William Doll, the baker and confectioner, has rented the room in the Bush Arcade, formerly occupied by the post office, and on the 1st of April will transfer his place of business from his present location on Bishop street to the Arcade. Years ago, when the old Arcade was yet standing the room on the same site was occupied as a bakery.

—During the past week the small pox quarantine has been lifted from both the poor house and the house of Mrs. Hugh Taylor, on east Howard St., and the occupants are naturally rejoiced over their deliberation. No new cases of the disease have developed in Bellefonte and the only house yet under quarantine is that of Mr. J. Henry Wetzel. There the last patient has practically recovered and it will be only the question of a few days until the quarantine card will be taken down.

—Charles Ryan and Harry Coleman, who held up various citizens of Philadelphia and shot a motorman last week, were sentenced to the limit of the law, fifteen years, by Judge Audenried on Friday. There is another class of criminals who should never go short of the law's limit on sentence day, after their guilt has been surely established. It is that class of culprits who assault helpless girls and women on the public highway and elsewhere. The crime is among the most heinous practiced by degraded humanity, and the only proper place for criminals of that class is within the confines of the penitentiary. The sooner the courts come to a full realization of the enormity of the crime and administer sentence accordingly the better it will be for society.

—Don't fail to attend the great linen sale at Joseph's.

—Charles Eckenroth is confined to his home on East Howard street by illness.

—Pauline, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Johnston is quite ill, threatened with pneumonia.

—Miss Elizabeth Schofield has resigned her position at the Bell Telephone Exchange after five years service.

—Israel Kauffman, who had a part of his finger amputated at a Philadelphia hospital, is reported as improving.

—The many friends of Col. Amos Mullen are glad to see him out again after his serious illness. He is slowly improving.

—Frank Curtin, order clerk for the Potter-Hoy Hardware company, and Miss Florence Denius stenographer, were both housed up a few days suffering with the grip.

—Little Catharine Rice, who makes her home with her grandfather, Samuel Rice, out near the Phoenix mill plant, is ill with scarlet fever and the Rice home has been quarantined.

—Clyde Orwig, who has been a student at the Academy, passed the examinations for the Freshman class at State College last week; having done his preparatory work at the Academy,

—Mrs. H. Witmer Smith entertained a party of ladies Tuesday and Thursday evenings of last week in honor of her guests Mrs. Frank Bradford and Miss Grace Smith, of Centre Hall.

—The Hon. W. C. Lingle, of Patton, has bought the Reynolds house, on Linn street, now occupied by Joseph L. Montgomery, and expects to move here shortly and make this his future home.

—The "Parrish Priest" will be the attraction at Garman's opera house Monday evening February 13th for the benefit of the Logan Fire Company. This is one of the best shows that played at Bellefonte last season.

—Tuesday evening a jolly crowd, most of whom were members of the United Brethren church, left Bellefonte to attend a large revival, which is now in force at the United Brethren church at Houserville. All report having enjoyed the trip except "the man behind."

—Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson's committee of ten who so successfully carried out the old folks concert in the Presbyterian chapel tendered her a surprise party at her home on Linn street on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1. About eighteen were present and of course they had a fine time.

—J. Theodore Cherry, engineer on the Lewisburg passenger train and Republican candidate for council from the West ward, is confined to his home on North Thomas street with an attack of la grippe. His place as engineer is being filled by Harry Stull, formerly of this place, but now of Lewisburg.

—The biggest mortgage ever filed in Centre county was entered last week by the Cambria and Clearfield railway Co. and was for the sum of $7,500,000. It was in favor of the Commercial Trust company. of Philadelphia, and was given to secure the above amount of 4 per cent. gold bonds.

—Chas. Palmer, aged 34, was accidentally burned to death in a glass factory at Smithport. Pa. Monday. His remains were brought to Bellefonte Wednesday night and taken to the home of Miss Sara Eckley above Coleville where the funeral was held Thursday. He was married to Miss Sara Lingerton, of Coleville, who survives him with one child.

—The improved and very sensitive automatic fire alarm of a Danish inventor acts only when a sudden wave of heat is generated. U-tube four inches high is half-filled with mercury, the upper parts containing sulphuric ether, and both ends being closed. One side of the tube is covered with non-conducting material, An even rise of temperature warms the entire apparatus, but a sudden heat—as in a fire—vaporizes the ether under the unprotected glass, forcing down the mercury and ringing an electric bell.

—Wednesday of last week Mr. Henry Linn purchased the entire interest of the Wilkinson estate in the China hall, on High street, and from now on will be the sole proprietor of that establishment. Mr. Linn has had several years practical experience in the business, going there when Samuel H. Taylor resigned his position as manager, and has proven to the public that he is thoroughly conversant with the china business. There is no doubt that he will meet with the success he so well deserves.

—It is said a bill will be presented at this session of the Pennsylvania legislature making spitting on the floor in public places a misdemeanor. The passage of the bill will be urged by the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. The bill will provide for cuspidors and the fine for violating the act will not exceed $5 for each offense. The "white scourge" is still on the increase and radical measures must be adopted to check its ravages. Just so. But how about spitting of consumption saliva, tobacco juice and gobs of all kinds on pavements for ladies to swab up in their promenades, or for all people to "stomach" in their perambulations. Spitting on a clean pavement is just as nasty, mean and dirty a habit as spitting on the carpet of a tidy home.

—The groundhog seems to have hit the mark all right.

—Did you see the spot on the sun? That is the latest salutation.

—A new platform scale has been placed in the baggage room at the Pennsylvania station.

—H. Y. Stitzer, who has been ill at his home on East High street since last Friday night, is reported as improving.

—No matter how rich or influential any man may become he can never be as independent as some of our domestics.

—William Lytle, a well known resident of Clearfield, died a few days ago in the hospital at Warren, aged about 55 years.

—Harry Casper, of Coleville, aged 17 years, was run over by a bob sled during the early part of the week and quite seriously injured.

—W. H. Baird, of Pleasant Gap, has been on the sick list for the past week but is now improving. He is suffering from a bealing in the head which has caused him lots of trouble.

—February, the shortest month in year has four very important days—Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, February 12 and 22, Valentine Day, Feb. 14th and spring election day, Feb. 21st.

—A protruding object on a freight train Monday evening smashed three panes of glass in the second coach of Mail express as it was speeding into the Huntingdon station and frightened many of the passengers. S. Amnestein, on agent of a New York diamond importing establishment, who was sitting by one of the windows, was showered with glass and was slightly hurt.

—Up to ten years ago it was the exception to enconnter a woman's name in the patent books. Previous to that time the few patents applied for by women, as a rule, were mere expressions of more or lees unintelligent vanity. A process of weaving straw with silk is the first registered feminine patent. It was granted to Mary Kels, in 1809, and she undoubtedly discovered it in her pursuit of the carnal joy of pretty Sunday millinery.

—The Hollidaysburg Civic improvement society has begun preparations for a lively spring campaign which will involve the cleaning, improving and beautifying of the county capital. There will be a general planting of trees, and special attention will be paid to the culture of vines, plants and flowers. The society is composed of a lot of hustling ladies, and they hope to convert the old town into a veritable garden spot in a few years.

—There came very near being a serious conflagration at the home of John M. Woomer, on Bishop street, Wednesday of last week. After he had eaten his supper and was ready to start down town Mr. Woomer lit a cigar and then threw the lighted match into the cuspidor, which was sitting under the edge of the couch. The lighted match struck the fringe of the couch trimmings and in an instant the couch was all ablaze. From the couch the flames spread to the window curtin and the carpet entirely destroying the former and burning a big hole in the latter before the fire was extinguished by Mr. Woomer and others of the family.

—It is a curious but well-authenticated fact that the wild silkworm produces a silk which is declared to have a better lustre and stronger fibre than that of the captive silkworms. It is assumed that the confinement of and solicitous care received by the cultivated variety had produced a race which had lost some of its original vigor. Recent experiments seem to indicate that the effect so apparent is due entirely to the different food of the wild and domesticated silkworm. The leaves of the wild mulberry result in larger growth at each stage of development and a larger, heavier mature worm, and one that produces a filament of superior quality.—Kansas City Independent.

—By the accidental turning over of a Rochester lamp in the home of J. P. Pillsbury at State College on Monday evening a fire which might have been disastrous was occasioned. But by the prompt and kindly assistance of neighbors and students the danger was averted. Mr. Pillsbury was away from the house and did not learn of the fire until it was quenched. The fire department was not called out as the flames were under control at once. The loss consisted of a chair, table, carpet, lamp, curtain and two good overcoats. This was covered by insurance in the Acken and Munick company. The damage to the house included a broken door, a broken window and ruined paper in the room in which the fire occurred. C. B. Sheasley, owner of the house, carries insurance which will indemnify the loss.

—Capt. J. Larsen, a sailor on the Great Lakes, has just received patents on a new form of a pleasure boat. The boat is supplied with a glass bottom, and under the bottom is an electric light, which will illuminate the water and the bed of the stream for some distance around. A hooded reflector makes it possible to sit comfortably in the boat and witness the curious things in the bottom below with great ease, and pictures may be taken also through means of the mirror. The captain has in his possession a number of photographs which were taken by this means, and these are said to be quite satisfactory, although they were made when the water was clouded with dirt washed down into it. It is said that photography of the bottom of streams will be greatly facilitated by means of the new contrivance.

—Senator Depew predicts that in ten years steam locomotives will be in the museums and we will be racing along at seventy-five miles per hour behind electric locomotives. Whereupon an exchange remarks, if the accident record keeps pace with the engines, a whole lot of us will also be in the cemetery.

—Gen. J. P. S. Gobin will command the provisional brigade of the National Guard of Pennsylvania which will participate in the inaugural parade at Washington on the 4th of March. The brigade will consist of the entire First regiment from the first brigade, one battalion each from the Tenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth regiments of the second brigade, and one battalion each from the Fourth, Eighth and Twelfth regiments of the third brigade.

—Yeager & Davis have decided to close their Philipsburg shoe store and with that end in view are moving their large stock from Philipsburg to Bellefonte and will offer the same at a sacrifice sale beginning Feb 16. The reason for abandoning the Philipsburg store is because Mr. Harry Yeager will devote more of his time to the swing factory which is in successful operation at this place. After the big sale Mr. Elmer Davis will probably have charge of the shoe store. He will move his family back to Bellefonte.

—Daniel Appleby, of Mount Union, was instantly killed at 6 o'clock Friday morning by being run down by Cleveland and Cincinnati express. He was crossing the tracks at a railroad crossing near the station and failed to see the approaching passenger train, which had been delayed east of that place. He was struck and hurled a considerable distance, death resulting almost instantly. He was aged 60 years and is survived by his wife. He was employed as a clerk in the freight office at Mt. Union and had held the position for many years.

—Some new and simple radium experiments have been described by Prof. O. Rebuffat, an Italian physicist. On rubbing a glass tube with wool in a medium containing a radium salt, a luminous glow followed the wool, and a glow also appeared when the finger was brought near the excited glass. Upon a a vacuum tube brought into connection with a tube of radium salt, a brilliant glow appeared inside when the outside of the glass tube was rubbed with wool. This experiment, it is believed, makes it possible to demonstrate the production of emanations from redium mixtures of low grade, or feeble activity.

—Particulars are out regarding the new metal discovered by the Tuscan engineers, Trayaglini and Fabiani. The discoverers have given the name radium argentiferum. The metal is composed of copper, iron and infinitesimal portions of silver, radium and phosphorous. The chief secret, it is said, lies in the phosphorous. It is claimed by the patentees that radium argentiferum is stronger than steel, does not oxidize, is a better conductor than copper and can be manufactured in large quantities at one-tenth the cost of bronze. Therefore they expect that it will be largely used in making cannon, munitions, etc., and that it will supersede copper in electric wires.

—It is reported that the ravages of smallpox at Portage have increased at an alarming rate during the past few days, and the residents of that place fear that unless the state authorities take prompt and vigorous action the epidemic will spread over the surrounding country. There are now thirty-five cases in the town, and the newly developed ones are more virulent than was the case at the outset of the epidemic. The United States postal authorities will forbid the sending of mail from that place. It is said no effort whatever has been made to establish quarantine regulations, and people living in houses where the disease exists mingle freely with other people. The action of the postal authorities will prevent the spread of contagion through the mail service. It is stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad company will issue an order that no trains shall stop at that place. This will stop people from leaving the place by the company's line, prevent contagion from being carried to the cars and compelling people to either stay in the town or else walk away from it.

—A new British invention in footwear promises to exercise a vast influence on the boot and shoe industry. Many attempts have been made at one time or another to produce a shoe with removable soles and heels, but for various reasons none have proven satisfactory. But the L. B. Patent Syndicate, Limited, appears to have solved the problem in producing a shoe that has all the appearance and merit of an ordinary well made shoe, but so constructed that the heel and sole can be easily taken off and new ones put on. The advantages of such a shoe are obvious, and the most striking feature of the patent is its absolute simplicity. A factory for the manufacture of these shoes is in active operation at Leeds, England, and by the enthusiastic way in which it is spoken of in the British press it has evidently met with popular approval The L. B. Patent Shoe Company owns the United States patent, and a good exhibit of the shoes can be seen at their office, 302 Corcoran Building, Fifteenth and F streets. Mr. Edward W. Creecy, well know in Washington, is president of the patent company.

CARSON—KLINE.

Pretty Nuptial Event at the Home of Harrison Kline.

Wedding bells rang merrily at 11 o'clock Wednesday at the comfortable home of Ex-County Treasurer Harrison Kline, on the Jacksonville road about two miles from town. The happy event of the day was the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna Kline to Mr. Clark Carson, a well-to-do young farmer of this vicinity.

The ceremony was performed promptly at the appointed hour, 11 a. m., in the presence of about one hundred and fifty invited guests, including many from Bellefonte. Rev. Robert Kline, an uncle of the bride and rector of the Episcopal church at Allentown, Pa., pronounced the words that united in holy bonds of wedlock, this happy young couple The groom was attended by D. Paul Fortney, as best man, and Miss Alice Ishler, daughter of Ex-Sheriff Ishler, was the bridesmaid.

After the ceremony a big wedding dinner was served at which all the good things imaginable were to be had. Later the bridal couple drove to Bellefonte and embarked on the 2 o'clock train for a wedding tour.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, both costly and useful. This paper joins with the many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Clark Carson with the hope that their voyage on the sea of matrimony may be a long, happy and prosperous one.

MARRIED.—On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the United Brethren parsonage in Bellefonte, Franklin B. Smith and Miss Ella B. Rote, both of Coleville, were united in marriage by Rev. A. Davidson.
